Dr. James Overgaard Metcalfe and Elizabeth Metcalfe

Dr. Metcalfe died on January 30, 2014 at the age 97. His wife of 68 years, Elizabeth, died days later on February 2, 2014. Together still.

They were married in 1945 and celebrated their 68th anniversary on December 28, 2013. Much loved parents of J.B. (Patty), Robert (Nathalie), Don (Marion) and Lynne (David), 14 grandchildren, 13 great-grandchildren, as well as numerous relatives and friends.

Dr. Metcalfe was the Chief of Urology at the University of Alberta Hospital between 1958 and 1975. As well as training over 50 urologists in the J.O. program, he was a leader in Canadian and North American Urology.

He will be remembered as a wonderful father, husband, grandfather and teacher. Dr. J.O. had a charismatic and powerful personality that contributed to his success as an organizer and teacher. He was loved and respected by all who had the opportunity to work and play with him.

Mrs. Metcalfe was a physiotherapist who worked with many who were injured during World War II and affected by the polio epidemic, before turning her unstinting love and support to her family. She grew up in Ontario and was won over to the West and the mountains during an army furlough when she met Jim on the train. They were never happier than when together in those same mountains with their family.
