

Division of Urology, Women's College Hospital, University of Toronto

Job Field: Clinician-Surgeon (Urology), Researcher & Educator

Faculty/Division: Faculty of Medicine, Division of Urology

Department: Department of Surgery

Hospital Affiliation: Women's College Hospital, Cross Appointed to the Sinai Health System

University Affiliation: University of Toronto

Job Posting: June 2017

Effective Date of Appointment: Sept. 1, 2017

Description:

The Department of Surgery, Division of Urology at Women's College Hospital (fully affiliated with the University of Toronto) is inviting applications for the position of Urologic Surgeon in Sexual Medicine. The effective date of this appointment is tentatively scheduled for September 2017.

Responsibilities include a full clinical urology practice, research, education, and administrative responsibilities. The successful candidate will be primarily based at Women's College Hospital and will be a full member of the Women's College Hospital Department of Surgery practice plan. This position includes a cross-appointment with the Sinai Health System, with a requirement to provide on-call and acute care urological surgery services.

Clinical Focus: The successful candidate will have specialized fellowship training in sexual medicine and surgery for treatment of both female and male sexual dysfunction and provide leadership the development of centralized, integrated, team-based programs in this field. An interest and training in transgender surgery is required, as well as a strong foundation in general urology. An ambulatory surgical practice is essential.

Research: A background at a Masters level or higher (enrolled or completed) in research, education, or management is a prerequisite as a foundation to support academic scholarship. Evidence of past achievement in research via peer-reviewed publication, scientific presentation, or grant capture is required.

Education & Teaching: A commitment to education and evidence of excellence in teaching is required.

The successful candidate must demonstrate the ability to provide effective and collaborative leadership at the hospital, provincial, and national level. The candidate must be eligible for academic appointment at the University of Toronto at the rank of Lecturer or Assistant Professor, and must be eligible for certification with the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons of Canada, and licensure with the College of Physicians and Surgeons of Ontario.

Women's College Hospital is a world-renowned, state-of-the-art, academic healthcare facility dedicated to achieving leadership in women's health in an ambulatory care setting. As a teaching hospital fully affiliated with the University of Toronto, Women's College delivers excellence in teaching, research, and innovative clinical care. The surgical program is a model for cost-effective, patient-centred, innovative ambulatory healthcare delivery.

Salary is anticipated to be between $200,000 and $400,000 and is commensurate with qualifications and experience. Estimates are based on fee-for-service billings.

Interested applicants should submit applications, including a curriculum vitae and the names of three referees to:

Dr. David Urbach, Surgeon in Chief
Women's College Hospital
Department of Ambulatory Surgery
76 Grenville Street Toronto, ON, M5S 1B2
Email: deptofsurgery@wchospital.ca

For more information on please visit the following websites:

Women's College Hospital: <http://www.womenscollegehospital.ca/>

Division of Urology: <https://uofturology.ca/>

Department of Surgery at the University of Toronto: <http://surgery.utoronto.ca/>